1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. This is essential for ensuring the integrity of the financial statements and for providing a clear audit trail. The records should be kept up-to-date and should be accessible to all relevant parties.

2. The second part of the document outlines the procedures for handling discrepancies. It is important to identify any errors as soon as possible and to investigate the cause of the discrepancy. Once the cause has been identified, the necessary steps should be taken to correct the error and to prevent it from recurring.

3. The third part of the document discusses the role of the internal control system. This system is designed to ensure that the organization's resources are used efficiently and effectively, and that the financial statements are accurate. The internal control system should be regularly reviewed and updated to reflect changes in the organization's operations.

4. The fourth part of the document outlines the responsibilities of the management and the board of directors. Management is responsible for ensuring that the organization's financial statements are accurate and that the internal control system is effective. The board of directors is responsible for overseeing the organization's financial performance and for ensuring that the financial statements are fair and accurate.

5. The fifth part of the document discusses the importance of transparency and accountability. This is essential for building trust with the organization's stakeholders and for ensuring that the organization is operating in a responsible and ethical manner. The organization should be open and honest about its financial performance and should be willing to accept responsibility for any errors or discrepancies.

6. The sixth part of the document outlines the conclusions and recommendations. It is clear that maintaining accurate records and a strong internal control system are essential for the success of any organization. The organization should continue to work on improving its financial reporting and internal control systems to ensure that it is operating in a transparent and accountable manner.

Comments:

1. Strengths of the instructor Very good instructor. Understood what students needed from class. I will leave this course with an understanding of philosophy. Some students end up hating this type of class, but Dr. Johns helped us to understand why philosophy is important & I will remember the examined life.
