

201410-PHIL-224-1-L-Christopher Low Johns

25 Identify Instructor's strengths.

Kept the class lively especially when the topic was getting harder, also allowed many discussions which made a big difference in keeping the students engaged. Clear explanation

He's funny

his ability to move the discussion toward interesting points

He uses appropriate examples and takes the time to explain different perspectives on the topics we are learning. He is respectful and it's especially important in this course since it's about religion.

organised, clearhis interest in our improvement. he stresses on our progress.

relating topics to real life situations

Genuine philosophical knowledge and background.Good sense of humor.

he encourages discussions and debates accessible for feedback

26 Identify Instructor's weaknesses.

I don't see any weaknesses.

Is not fully knowledgeable of all sorts of religions and the corresponding doctrines (such as Islam). But this didn't pose a great problem.

ignorance about Islam

I think that the instructor could demonstrate more knowledge about religions other than Christianity, for example Islam, Buddhism and Hinduism. I believe it would not only enrich the course but also the quality of the discussion especially when it comes t

none

Lacks knowledge in some basic religions (course is about religion)

27 Identify course's strengths and weaknesses.

Strengths: Its very interesting and enriching, it definitely enhances students' critical thinking, I now look at things from other perspectives and am able to think some issues through in ways I wouldn't have before.Weaknesses: Most of the discussions an interesting topics

No comment .

This course, as all philosophy courses do, encourages you to think in a broader perspective and think deeply. I don't see any weaknesses in this topic.

the book and the course pack included interesting material

heavy reading load

28 Please provide specific suggestions for improving the course.

it is very good the way it is provide videos to make it more interesting

201410-PHIL-224-1-L-Christopher Low Johns

None.

The readings are sometimes a bit too long and complicated. Maybe decrease the number of quizzes

It is fine as is.

